

Washington, DC – On Thursday, Harry Teague spent time signing cards to be sent to military servicemen and women, veterans, and their families around the world during the upcoming holiday season. The annual “Holiday Mail for Heroes” initiative, sponsored by the American Red Cross Holiday Mail, provides the opportunity for people across the country to extend holiday greetings, expressions of gratitude, and well wishes to current and former members of our armed forces and their relatives.

“The men and women who serve in our military put their lives on the line every day for our country,” said Harry Teague, “As we approach the holiday season, and so many of our armed forces are away from their families, it is important now more than ever that we take the time to extend our gratitude to them for their service.”

As a member of the House Veterans’ Affairs Committee, Congressman Teague has focused on highlighting and finding solutions to the medical problems that many soldiers face upon returning home, including Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder and Traumatic Brain Injury. Teague has also made it a priority to pursue full and on-time funding for the Veterans Administration, and provide access to the best health care and highest quality resources that our nation can provide for the countless veterans who live in rural areas across southern New Mexico.
